

Big Cars to Government at Cut Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big three automakers have acknowledged that for many years they have provided luxury cars to government leaders at highly reduced lease rates.

Ford spokesman George Trainor termed the practice "a very straightforward business deal to get personalities behind the wheel of our cars."

In Congress, committee chairmen said the practice has been in effect for years and they saw nothing wrong with it, even though some of the leaseholders have occasion to deal with legislation affecting the auto industry.

Trainor said his company has made new Lincoln Continentals available to key members of Congress and other federal officials for $750 a year. The same car would cost the average customer about $3,500 for a year's lease.

At Detroit, a spokesman for General Motors said it currently is leasing 33 Cadillacs at $1,000 annually and eight smaller cars at $100 to government figures.

A Chrysler official confirmed similar arrangements, echoing the point that "there is marketing benefit in having our products driven by prominent people."

General Motors said its cars are leased directly to the government, which in turn apportions them to individuals.

Hampton Charge Is Rebutted

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Independent Voters of Arkansas issued a statement Monday saying an accusation that blacks in Arkansas are selling their votes is "completely cynical and irresponsible."

The remarks apparently were in response to a statement made last week by the Rev. R. J. Hampton of North Little Rock that the Independent Voters group had received "a quarter of a million dollars" from Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller to register voters and get them to the polls.

"We're not surprised that Hampton would accuse us of 'buying votes,'" the statement said. "That's the kind of politics he understands."

The statement was signed by the Rev. C. K. Yarber, chairman, and the Rev. Jimmie Jones, co-chairman.

Interest on Savings Bonds to Be 5%

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted the Treasury Department authority to raise the interest on U.S. savings bonds to 5 1/2 per cent.

The proposal, still subject to House approval, would raise the rate from 5 per cent, effective last June 1. Such action by the Treasury would be subject to approval of the president.

Sen. John Williams, R-Del., backed the provision onto an unrelated House-passed bill. He said the boost would help the average American who cannot get higher yields available to wealthy investors in the bond and real estate markets.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., suggested raising the savings bond rate to a level equal to or higher than that paid by savings and loan associations might further reduce the availability of money for new housing.

Says Some Using State-Owned Cars

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Sen. Oscar Alagood of Little Rock said Monday he had reports of state employees using state-owned cars for personal use.

Alagood made the statement in a letter to Dr. Max Milam, director of the state Administration Department.

Alagood also said he had been told that "in some instances, employees who do not perform any outside work have state-owned automobiles assigned to them as a disposal."

Calls Nursing Homes 'Human Junkyards'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said Monday that health inspections of nursing homes are nothing but an empty farce that leaves elderly patients to suffer in "human junkyards."

Pryor asserted that four out of every five nursing homes getting federal payments from Medicaid and Medicare are violating health standards.

In a speech prepared for delivery in the House, Pryor said the federal government has retreated again and again from enforcing proper care and has been content with only paper regulations.

"We have turned over the sickest, most helpless and most vulnerable patient group in the medical care system to the most loosely controlled and least responsible faction," Pryor said.

The congressman is attempting to establish a committee in the House to investigate the nursing home industry and recommend remedial legislation to insure a higher standard of care for one million patients now confined to the nation's 24,000 nursing homes.

Of the $2.4 billion poured into nursing homes each year, 75 per cent comes from tax funds, Pryor said.

But he declared the federal regulations for at least one level of nursing-home care have been "lower than those required for the protection of laboratory animals."

"We must stop using federal funds to maintain the aged in surroundings that endanger their lives and mutilate their hope," Pryor said.

Charging gross inefficiency in the inspections carried out by state officials under the federal programs, Pryor quoted letters from patients and relatives in several states.

None of the letters referred to Arkansas.

mediate rules and regulations governing the purchase and use of state-owned cars until the legislature convenes in January.

Alagood said it was difficult for taxpayers to embrace the concept of increased taxes for more and better services "when there are evidently areas such as these that are spending money just because it's available."

Pollution Is Worst in 2 Cities

By G. C. THELEN Jr.

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The small Ohio community of Steubenville and metropolitan New York City have one thing in common: the federal government says each leads the nation in a category of air pollution.

Tentative 1970 pollution ratings show Steubenville has the dirtiest air—clogged with dust, smoke, soot and the like—while New York's air is worst in content of sulfur oxides.

However, the National Air Pollution Control Administration—NAPCA—can't say yet—as it did three years ago—which metropolitan areas are most plagued by air pollution in all its forms.

The reason is that 1970 statistics are not ready on the hydrocarbons, nitrogen oxides and carbon monoxide that pour from motor vehicles.

Reaction to the report came quickly from the metropolitan areas named.

Steubenville Mayor Andrew W. Miller said much of the pollution in his area comes from plants in West Virginia.

Two West Virginia metropolitan areas—Huntington and Charleston—were high on the lists and Carl G. Beard II, director of the state Air Pollution Control Commission commented, "We are trying to ascertain as quickly as possible the source of the misinformation."

And in Syracuse, N.Y., which tied for No. 5 on the particulate list, the county public health engineer said, "It can't be true, probably 50 others are dirtier."

The NAPCA working report says nationwide particulate levels—visibly dirty air—gradually have declined in the past decade. But the sulfur oxide load is expected to increase by three million tons this year to a total of 33 million tons.

"National average levels of ambient urban air concentrations for both particulates and sulfur oxides are close to levels that have been observed to have an adverse effect on our environment," the document says.

Particulates collect on windows and homes and coat the exterior of cars. Sulfur oxides form corrosive sulfuric acid in the air and attack clothes, corrode statues and building exteriors, and dull paint.

The burning of coal and fuel oil is the major source of particulates and sulfur oxides.

The industrial Northeast is hardest hit by sulfur oxide. But oil refineries and ore smelters account for pockets of high oxide readings in Texas and Arizona.

The top 10 cities in composite particulate levels are: 1. Steubenville, 2. Charleston, W.Va. 3. Scranton, Pa. 4. Niagara Frontier, N.Y. (Niagara Falls—Buffalo area) 5. (tie) Bakersfield, Calif., and Syracuse, N.Y. 7. Johnstown, Pa. 8. Louisville, Ky. 9. Milwaukee 10. Pittsburgh.

The top 10 in sulfur oxides are: 1. New York City 2. Chicago 3. Huntington, W.Va. 4. Philadelphia 5. Pittsburgh 6. (tie) Cleveland and St. Louis 8. Washington, D.C. 9. Detroit 10. Providence, R.I.

McClerkin said he also had reason to believe that Faubus is "making deals" with other candidates in the race.

He said he would develop the alleged deals further if the "need arises."

McClerkin said that the "debacle in the Pulaski County Democratic Committee is an example of the Orval Faubus brand of politics."

He was referring to a recent move by Luke A. Moorman Jr., chairman of the county committee, to more than double the size of the committee. The action is being contested.

Some Get More Than Their Share: Over 60 Million Hangovers

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Overweight people are less likely to commit suicide or suffer severe mental disease than thin people or those of average weight. But they pay a heavier toll from most other illnesses, accidents and surgical operations.

Those Good Old Days: When he was only 21 and needed a pair of trousers, Abraham Lincoln paid for them by splitting 400 fence rails for each yard of cloth. At those rates today, young Abe would probably settle for a pair of shorts.

Someone has estimated that there are now some 60 million hangovers in the United States every week. If this figure is anywhere near correct, it raises the suspicion that some sneaky fellows are getting more than their fair share.

The question also has been raised by science as to whether foul air may not drive some people to drink excessively. Rats were subjected for three weeks to auto exhaust fumes typically breathed by Los Angeles human residents during rush hours. At the start of the tests the rats all preferred to drink plain water. At the end they all preferred to drink alcoholic solutions.

Quotable notables: "No woman has ever stepped on Little America—and we have found it to be the most silent and peaceful place in the world."—Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Antarctic explorer, in 1955.

Attractive: If you want to be bitten by mosquitoes, who have an eye for color, wear black, blue or red clothing. These are the colors they go for. If you wear white or yellow clothing, they are more likely to shun you.

The healthier sex: A man at 42 can look forward to living to 72, a woman of 45 to 77. In terms of absenteeism, one study found women miss work because of disabling illness only half as often as men between the ages of 45 and 64. One reason: men's greater susceptibility to heart attacks.

Worth remembering: "The most disappointed people in the world are those who want what's coming to them—and get it."

It was Cecil Beaton, noted English photographer and designer, who said: "What is elegance? Soap and water!"

Poison Gas Sea Burial Advocated

By BROOKS JACKSON

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defending its plan to dump 15,540 concrete-encased nerve gas rockets in the Atlantic, the Army has told Congress the rockets are virtually harmless and—in the same breath—increasingly dangerous.

"We can conceive no accident that would set the rockets off," Brig. Gen. William W. Stone told a House oceanography subcommittee Monday.

He said the Army had tested mock-ups of the rockets' 418 steel-jacketed coffins by setting off a 50-pound dynamite charge under one and firing armor-piercing bullets into another. Neither set off any test rockets which contained live explosives but none of the deadly, odorless gas, Stone said.

By contrast, however, Army Undersecretary Thaddeus R. Beal said the Army did not want to delay getting rid of the rockets because they were becoming more dangerous.

He was asked to delay the Aug. 10 date for shipping the rockets from Aniston, Md., and Lexington, Ky., to Sunny Point, N.C., where the Army plans to load them aboard a barge to be scuttled 282 miles off Florida in 16,000 feet of water.

"We do not wish to take the responsibility of doing that," Beal replied. "Our plan is to proceed."

He said a committee of civilian specialists headed by Dr. Paul Gross of Duke University had recommended the decade-old rockets be jettisoned "without delay" because their explosive and propellant charges might be getting dangerously unstable with age.

"Time is of the essence," Beal said. He said the Gross committee's first proposal—vaporizing the rockets in an underground nuclear blast—was rejected because the Atomic Energy Commission said it would take 15 months.

Later in Miami Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., said Army Secretary Stanley Resor had given him "absolute assurance" the rockets would not be shipped until the subcommittee hearings ended.

Beal said the Army planned to take maximum precautions in shipping the rockets. He said the trains would creep along at 35 miles an hour, following pilot trains that would scout the tracks for dangers. Aerial observers would keep watch over the trains by day and searchlights would probe the night, he said.

Beal said any damage to marine life would be minimal and preferable to endangering human life ashore. "The maximum adverse environmental impact would be temporary contamination of approximately one cubic mile of water," he said.

The obsolete M-55 rockets were encased in concrete 18 months ago when they showed signs of leaking. Public outcry prevented dumping them at sea, as had been done with other such obsolete gas weapons.

U.S. Admits Air Cover in Cambodia

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American officials in Saigon admitted today that U.S. planes are bombing in Cambodia in response to requests from Cambodian authorities.

"We are responding to anyone's request for interdiction missions in the area of Cambodia," one official said. Informed sources disclosed that as many as 50 American fighter-bombers, each carrying about eight tons of bombs and rockets, are taking part each day in raids on Cambodian territory.

The U.S. Command repeated its earlier statement that U.S. air attacks in Cambodia are directed at "enemy troops or material which could threaten U.S. and other free world lives in South Vietnam."

But other officials gave the impression that American planes are also attacking Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops that threaten Cambodian forces.

"If the Cambodians say there is an enemy troop concentration or supply area at a given point," said one source, "and U.S. bombers go in to interdict, this seems well within President Nixon's ground rules."

"We sometimes get a peripheral or side benefit," said another official. "If it happens to be enemy troops, we're not going to complain. But officially it's interdiction."

The Cambodian deputy commander in the Kiri Rom area southwest of Phnom Penh told newsmen Monday that U.S. Air Force Phantoms were supporting his troops by regularly bombing enemy forces in his area, which is miles west of any known enemy supply route to South Vietnam.

Cambodian commanders in the Siem Reap-Angkor area, at the other end of Cambodia from Vietnam, reported last weekend that U.S. and Thai planes from Thailand were hitting the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in that area.

American air attacks in support of Cambodian forces also were reported at Skoun, an important road junction 40 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, and at Kompong Thom, the largest town in central Cambodia 80 miles north of Phnom Penh.

The Cambodian military spokesman in Phnom Penh reported today that government troops after three days of heavy street fighting had driven a large Communist force out of Kompong Thom. But he reversed a previous announcement that Skoun had been retaken and said the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese continued to hold that town.

Navy Foils Red Try at Missile Test

By HOWARD BENEDICT

AP Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Navy officials feel they prevented a Soviet spy ship from obtaining vital information about the first submarine firing of a Poseidon missile, even though the Russian vessel made a daring dash that almost resulted in collision at sea.

"We don't know for sure what they were after but they sure didn't get much," a Navy spokesman said.

The incident occurred Monday when the nuclear sub James Madison launched the Poseidon while submerged in the Atlantic 30 miles east of Cape Kennedy.

The Soviet trawler Laptev was kept 3,000 yards from the sub by the U.S. destroyer escort Calcaterra until the Poseidon darted to the surface.

Twenty minutes later, the Laptev suddenly cut in front of the destroyer and raced full speed toward the bow of a support ship, the USS Observation Island.

The support ship's commanding officer, Capt. William C. Dotson, twice sounded a warning signal and ordered his engines reversed. The ship stopped dead as the Laptev zipped across the bow.

The Russians were after 10 cushion-sized pieces of a plastic membrane that had covered the launching tube in the deck of the Madison to prevent water from flowing in before the missile was fired.

Although the Soviet crewmen tossed out nets and used grappling hooks, American sailors in a whale boat quickly salvaged all 10 pieces.

The Navy said the segments were not classified and did not know why the Russians were so eager to get them.

Television and Radio

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Dinah Shore's new daytime series got a month-long jump on the new season with its NBC premiere Monday and may need every minute of it for its shake-down period.

The half hour is set up in women's magazine format and aims to cover women's interests as male show producers believed them to be in the days before Women's Lib.

"Dinah's Place" is a series of opulent sets—living room, kitchen, study, greenhouse and sewing room—and the show moves at a gallop from one room to another. Dinah, friendly, informal and breathless, has her work cut out if the series is to be more than a mad dash.

On the opening show—probably the toughest to handle since she was introducing the concept and some of her helpers—she showed the house, exhibited her oil paintings and needlepoint, cooked a platterful of Japanese shrimp under the eyes of her real-life housekeeper, sang, brought on her two children, told of coming attractions and wound up with a brief fashion show.

Historically, TV service programs for women never have done very well. Dinah rashly promises the ladies will be able to learn about the successful handling of men, children, wrinkles, extra pounds, horticulture, new recipes, hobbies, even sewing.

There wasn't time for in-depth cookery or in-depth anything else. And, although Dinah used three friends as models, the fashion show was pretty much a waste of time. Most of the nation's television sets are black and white and in shades of gray, the most glamorous of colors are pretty unimpressive.

FAMILY REUNION IS ONE BIG DREAD

Dear Helen:
A while back there was a letter from a teen who enjoyed family reunions. I envy her because to me they're one big dread. Here's why:

1. My step-grandmother can't hold her liquor. The things she says and does make me want to throw up.

2. Dad's family can't stand Mom's family and vice versa. Yet they insist on getting together at least once a year—and it always ends in a fight. With all those cuts being thrown around, I'm usually the one that seems to get slashed up. Maybe it's because I'm an only child.

3. The family gets a big kick from mocking my friends, me, my school. Those from out of town knock the place where we live.

4. Almost everybody uses horrible language and dirty words, especially as they get drunker. But if the kids do—wow!

Helen, I'm almost 17 and this year I don't want to go to our regular Thanksgiving family reunion. Mom understands, but Dad thinks I'm a traitor. There'll be over 30 people without me. How can I get it across to him that I won't be missed? —BOUNCER, REFEREE AND ENGLISH TEACHER

Dear BR and ET:

A modest proposal: Why don't all three of you plan a different Thanksgiving vacation this fall? My IGAP says your mother and father suffer as much as you do at these annual disunions, though Pop won't admit it yet. A year off might give everyone a better perspective. —H.

Dear Helen:

I'm 19, been married six months, and right now my husband is in Vietnam. I'm lonely, but that's beside the point. This may come as a shock, but I'm not going to ask you how to stay faithful. To heck with my sexual needs. I'll survive until Barry gets back. I love him with all my heart.

What worries me is that I love him too much to keep anything from him. He knows I was sort of engaged to another guy when I was 17. He doesn't know I used to tell my folks I was going to spend the night with a girl friend and instead spent it with my steady. It didn't happen often and this was my one and only affair.

Should I confess, after Barry comes home, of course? —TROUBLED YOUNG WIFE

Dear Wife:

Confession may be good for the soul, but not for the soulmate. If Barry hasn't asked, he doesn't want to know, so forget the past and concentrate on having the best of all possible futures. —H.

Dear Helen:

I want to be an airline hostess, but I talked to my school counselor about it and she advised me to consider something else, after looking at me and to say, "You'll never make it." I'm not ugly or overweight or anything.

Should I go ahead and show her, or pick another field? Either she doesn't think much of me, or she doesn't approve of airline hostess work. Why? —W.P.M.

Dear W.:

Quien sabe?
But don't EVER let one person's opinion stop you. Apply for a preliminary interview-test at the airline of your choice. This is the only way to learn whether you are suited for hostessing and the fly-life is suitable for you. —H.

CHATTER

By: "Bill"

Joseph W. Parker recently said: "Most people communicate nicely when they talk. But when they get a pencil in hand they switch, and write a different language. Your spoken language is likely to be pretty good. Try writing like you talk."

As of this minute we are going to put Mr. Parker's words into action and tell you about a few of the new Fall things we have at Raley's. We hope you get the message.

We have ceased to worry about the length of skirts. It has been established that you can wear them just about any length you like and since few of our customers were in the mini-mini class to begin with...we are selling them like they are...

Purple is one of the best colors. It is gay without being too bright; it is flattering to most women and it is just a bit different. We realize there are some who will have none of it...that is why there are so many other lovely colors such as...cranberry, dark chocolate brown, lovely, lovely camel tan (our favorite), black and brown mixtures, red, the color of an Autumn sunset and forest green. There are several shades of blue as always but we do especially like the Marine blue. And since almost everything is washable, bone and off-white are excellent for winter.

No matter what you are looking for, you will find it or something better at 523 W. 3rd.

Pollution-Free Engine Demanded

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to force automakers to produce a low-polluting engine within five years—and a resolution proposing the means to free the talent and money to do it—were offered today by Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis.

Nelson was to have introduced an amendment to the Clean Air Act which would prohibit the sale of internal combustion engines by 1975.

At the same time he served up a "sense of Congress" resolution which would have Detroit declare a moratorium on costly styling changes until it comes up with an alternative propulsion system.

"Until we face the problem of auto pollution, we cannot claim to be serious about air pollution," Nelson said in remarks for Senate delivery.

Noting that oxidant-laden smog blanketed 17 Eastern seaboard states last week, Nelson said the public had seen "an ominous messenger of the future."

Dry-Cereal Men Defend Product

By H. L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The dry-cereal industry defended its product before a Senate subcommittee today and said an earlier witness who testified cereals have almost no nutritional value didn't know what he was talking about.

"Breakfast cereals are good foods," declared Dr. Frederick J. Stare, a Harvard nutrition professor and syndicated newspaper columnist who testified on behalf of Kellogg Co. and National Biscuit Co.

"A breakfast of cereal and milk," said Stare, "any kind of milk, along with some fruit, a couple of pieces of toast, some polyunsaturated margarine, a little jelly of jam, is just as nutritious as a bacon-and-egg breakfast with fruit, toast and something to put on the toast."

Stare, one of four industry witnesses to appear before the Senate consumer subcommittee, said in prepared testimony that he had been shocked to read of a report given the panel last week by Robert Choate, a Washington citizen lobbyist who has spent the past three years studying national food policy.

Choate said most cereals on the market offered only empty calories and presented a chart ranking 60 dry cereals. He said his studies showed only the top nine "nutritionally meritorious."

Dejardin New Manager of 76ers

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Don Dejardin has been named general manager of the National Basketball Association's Philadelphia 76ers, a team he helped lead for the rival American Basketball Association.

The 34-year-old Dejardin has been given a three-year contract, 76ers' owner Irv Kosloff has announced. Dejardin got the 76ers' job despite the fact he helped the Carolina Cougars of the ABA entice Billy Cunningham to sign with the Cougars.

Cunningham, an NBA All-Star, has signed to play with the Cougars starting in the 1971-1972 season. He recently signed a contract estimated as high as $200,000 to remain with Philadelphia this coming season.

Kosloff ended a four-month search for a G.M. with the signing of Dejardin, who succeeds Jack Ramsay, Ramsay, general manager-coach of the 76ers the past two years, was retained as coach but relieved of the G.M. post last April.

Napoleon Leads Ark. to Victory

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Outfielder Danny Napoleon drove in six runs in the first runs in the first four innings—including a grand slam, home run—to lead Arkansas to a 10-7 Texas League victory over Shreveport Monday night.

Napoleon connected with a bases full against loser Stan Bell and gave Arkansas a 4-0 lead.

Santiago Rosario blasted a three-run homer in the second to knot the court at 4-4.

The Travelers broke it open with three runs in the third, including an rbi single by Napoleon. Billy Stein's homer and Napoleon's triple added two more in the fourth for a 9-6 advantage.

Winning reliever John Schroepel yielded the final Braves runs in the sixth. The Travelers scored once against lefty Bryan Nelson who pitched three effective innings for Shreveport.

In other Texas League action, San Antonio won the first game of a doubleheader from Memphis 5-2, but the Blues took the nightcap 4-3. Dallas-Fort Worth routed El Paso 9-1 and Albuquerque defeated Amarillo 10-4.

Girls Softball

Two softball games were played Monday night in the Girls Softball League.

In the first game, the seventh graders defeated the eighth grade 16-14.

In the second game, the fifth grade whipped the fourth grade 22-12.

proached the bench for a conference with Superior Court Judge Charles Older. Court sources said Manson's attorney, Irving Kanarek, made a motion for a mistrial on the basis of prejudicial publicity. He was joined by attorneys Daye Shinn and Ronald Hughes.

The motion, Fitzgerald said later, was "denied without prejudice," meaning it could be renewed at a later date.

"The judge was alarmed," said Fitzgerald, "and the judge's main concern was to verify what the President had said. The judge said he wasn't sure that the President had said that."

He said the judge—who had no public comment—indicated he would rather rule on the matter after studying the President's statement.

Fitzgerald said the defense fears the jury, although sequestered, may be "tainted" by the comments, and possibly the judge as well.

He said that although the jury doesn't read newspapers or see television accounts of the case, "there are many possible leaks." Among them, he said, are visits from jurors' spouses on weekends and the chance a juror might glance at a newspaper headline while riding to and from court.

Nixon's remarks in Denver came as he arrived for a conference on law enforcement. His lengthy statement to newsmen included this comment:

"As we look at the situation today, I think the main concern that I have is the attitudes that are created among many of our younger people and also perhaps older people as well, in which they tend to glorify and to make heroes out of those who engage in criminal activities.

"This is not done intentionally by the press. It is not done intentionally by radio and television, I know. It is done perhaps because people want to read or see that kind of story."

"I noted, for example the coverage of the Charles Manson case when I was in Los Angeles was front page every day in the papers. It usually got a couple of minutes in the evening news.

"Here is a man who was guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reason."

Manson, 35, and three women followers—Leslie Van Houten, 20, Susan Atkins, 21, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22—are on trial for the slayings of Miss Tate and six others last August. Manson also is charged in a separate case with the slaying last summer of a Malibu musician, Gary Hinman.

In his remarks, Nixon further said of Manson: "Here is a man, yet who, as far as the coverage was concerned, appeared to be rather a glamorous figure."

Late Monday, Fitzgerald said he couldn't understand the President's remarks about "glamor" since most media had depicted Manson as "a murderous man-killer and other such terms."

He's been maligned quite viciously. I don't know how you could call that glamorizing."

Deputy Dist. Atty. Vincent T. Bugliosi said he felt the press hadn't glamorized Manson "but perhaps a segment of the public has."

The defense has contended from the outset that publicity had precluded the possibility of a fair trial.

Meanwhile, the state's star witness, Linda Kasabian, 21, resumed the stand for defense cross-examination.

Pilot Killed in Crop Duster Crash

ENGLAND, Ark. (AP) — Mack Magough Jr., 39, of Fayette, Ala., was killed Monday night when his single-engine crop duster crashed about six miles east of here.

State Police said Magough was spraying a 15-acre field when the plane's engine stalled during a turn. The plane plunged to the ground but did not burn. Magough was killed instantly, police said.

The plane was owned by Farmer Flying Coop of Coy.

Interstate Spur to Mill Draws Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government spent nearly $40 million to build a special superhighway as a favor for a new steel plant in rural Illinois, investigators have told Congress.

The 13-mile spur on the interstate highway system was criticized as unjustified in the report Monday by the General Accounting Office (GAO).

The Interstate 180 link, which was opened last fall, runs to the entrance of the new Jones & Laughlin steel plant at Hennepin, Ill.

The GAO, which acts as Congress' watchdog on federal spending, said the steel company's officials insisted on a four-lane superhighway spur as the price of locating the plant in the tiny Illinois town.

The interstate highway cost $47 million, with federal funds providing $39 million of the total and the state paying the rest.

The price was four times the average cost per mile nationally.

Hennepin, which has a population of 391, is a village on the Illinois River about 100 miles southwest of Chicago.

The report criticized the Federal Highway Administration for turning down other requests for spurs in larger metropolitan areas like Tucson, Ariz., and Tacoma, Wash., while approving the I-180 route.

The superhighway link dips down from Interstate 80, a major cross-country route running west from Chicago, and ends in a cloverleaf at the entrance to the steel plant.

It includes a new bridge built over the Illinois River just west of the plant.

The GAO report said the steel firm's officials had demanded construction of the I-180 spur so that trucks would have an easy access to the main I-80 route to Chicago.

"No other interstate spur route has been constructed primarily to serve a private manufacturing company, and no other interstate spur route serves an area with such a small population," the GAO said.

Illinois officials, who made the commitment to Jones & Laughlin when the plant site was announced in 1965, originally suggested that Interstate 55 suggested that Interstate 55 be moved to run past Hennepin, a costly change that would have added an extra 24 miles to the route.

Federal highway officials in Washington refused to do that and proposed the special spur for the steel plant as a compromise at a meeting Jan. 13, 1967, the report said.

At one point, the GAO said, the interchange at the end of the route was redesigned especially at the request of the steel firm.

Jones & Laughlin spokesmen had no immediate comment on the report.

The GAO said the Federal Highway Administration should evaluate all interstate spur requests on a national merit basis rather than giving piecemeal approval, case by case, as was done for I-180.

working holiday in San Clemente, Calif., Nixon went before newsmen prior to conferring in the Colorado capital with state law enforcement officials and said of Manson:

"Here is a man who was guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reason."

"Here is a man, yet who, as far as the (news media) coverage was concerned, appeared to be rather a glamorous figure."

Many reporters who heard Nixon, an attorney, were aware immediately that the chief executive had assumed Manson guilty before completion of his trial. Some thought they saw a quick facial reaction from Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, who was standing at the President's side.

Fellow lawyer Mitchell, however, made no move to suggest that Nixon amend his impromptu remark.

Shortly afterward, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler stated, after extended questioning by newsmen, that Nixon "failed to use the word 'alleged,'" in referring to Manson's case.

The eighth "murder" Nixon referred to presumably was that of musician Gary M. Humman of Malibu. Manson is charged in that slaying last summer along with a co-defendant in the Tate case, Susan Atkins.

'70 Lenin Prize Won by Japanese

TOKYO (AP) — Akira Iwai, secretary-general of Sohyo, Japan's 4.2-million-member General Council of Trade Unions, has received the Lenin Peace Prize for 1970.

The presentation was made Monday at the Soviet Embassy in Tokyo.

Iwai is the fifth Japanese to receive the Soviet award, which consists of a gold medal and $27,778.

Texas, Oregon Challenge Vote at 18

WASHINGTON (AP) — The states of Oregon and Texas have filed suits directly with the Supreme Court questioning the constitutionality of a new law lowering the voting age in all elections to 18.

The two contend Congress has no authority to change the minimum voting age of 21 set by the constitutions of Texas and Oregon.

The petitions, the first questioning the 1970 Voting Rights Act to reach the Supreme Court, were filed Monday, the deadline set by Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell for states to assure compliance with the law.

The Justice Department said it has no count of the number of states planning to comply with the law. Indiana and North Carolina have said they will not comply, at least for the time being, and Oregon has filed a challenge in a lower court.

The law, which grants the vote to 11 million young people next Jan. 1, was signed by President Nixon June 22. At that time, the President expressed questions about its constitutionality and directed a court test.

Blonde to Drive Bus to Alaska

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Rita Miller made only one parachute jump—her chute failed to open—and then she took up flying. Now she's off to Alaska behind the wheel of a big school bus.

Rita, 22, of Idaho Falls, Idaho, finished summer school at Oklahoma State University last Thursday. The next day she pulled out of Conway, Ark., driving a shiny new school bus to Anchorage.

It will take about eight days for the convoy of 15 buses to cover the 4,500 miles, about 2,000 of which will be over single-lane gravel roads.

"There will be a bonus if we get the buses there in good condition," the statuesque, 6-foot-1 blonde grinned.

The buses were purchased for contract hauling by the father of OSU engineering senior Dan Blackard. "Dan asked me if I wanted to go to Alaska," Miss Miller said. "I told him, 'Heck, yes I mean, you know, I just wanted to go someplace.'"

Wanting to go someplace and do something is the reason she took up parachuting at the age of 18. For her first jump she was at 2,500 feet.

"It was a static line jump," she said. "I had a malfunction with the parachute. Had to come down on my reserve. Oh, listen it was beautiful. I didn't have time to be scared. But boy, when I hit the ground I hurt all over. Broke my leg."

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Merle Miller, who formerly lived in Bartlesville, Okla., weren't too happy about that episode. In fact, they grounded her until her 21st birthday.

"It wasn't my choice," Rita said. "My mom wouldn't let me jump again and since I've turned 21 I haven't had the chance. So I've been flying. I don't have a license yet but I passed the written test."

The fact that she's never driven a bus didn't stop her from signing on for the Alaskan trip. She won't be hauling passengers, so she wasn't required to have a chauffeur's license.

A senior in biology at OSU, Rita said her postgraduation plans are uncertain but she wants eventually to work for the National Park Service.

"I'm scared of getting tied down and I don't want to be," she said. "Not yet, anyway. I want to get married and have two kids—when I'm 30."

"I want to travel. I want to see America. I'm not that fond of people, but I want to see America's people. I eventually want to live in the hills—in the sticks..."

USSR Fliers Lose Duel to Israeli

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bits and pieces of evidence have convinced some U.S. sources that Soviet fliers lost an aerial battle to Israeli airmen when four MIG21 jets were downed over the Suez Canal area last week.

Neither Israel nor the United States has confirmed reports that Russians were piloting the four warplanes.

If the reports are true, it would be the first known occasion in which the Israeli air force tangled directly with Soviet pilots in combat.

American sources said they understood the MIGs were flown more aggressively than has been the case when Egyptians were known to be in the cockpits. And they said one pilot who bailed out from his stricken MIG was shown to be a blond when his helmet fell off. Many Russians are blond. Arabs have black hair.

Other reports indicate monitored radio conversations in Russian came from MIGs fighting with Israeli warplanes over Egypt last week.

The U.S. officials did not say where they got their information. But obviously they consider it accurate.

The Israelis, it is believed, are likely to avoid any public boasts of victories over Russians for fear the Soviets would be stung into a bigger and more direct battle role.

The United States is anxious to tamp down the already explosive Mideast Crisis, especially since there is movement toward a truce along the Israeli-Egyptian front.

Prospects of the truce are pegged to a U.S. cease-fire plan which prompted Israel's right-wing Gahal party to quit Prime Minister Golda Meir's coalition government early today. The walkout effectively toppled the coalition government formed more than three years ago.

Sources said they were confident at least two of the MIGs in last week's battle were piloted by Russians, and possibly all four were Soviet-flown.

Professionals said they would not be surprised at Russian defeats in aerial combat with the Israelis because the Israelis are battle veterans while the Soviet air force has not fought since World War II.

The Russians were understood to have sent about 100 pilots to Egypt, some of them specifically for training the Egyptian air force and the others to fly combat patrols, apparently designed to protect surface-to-air missile sites and bases where Russian advisories and hardware are located.

FDA Cites Discontinued Mouthwashes

NEW YORK (AP) — Three mouthwash makers affected by a government directive to halt certain advertising claims say their products are no longer on the market and another says he is baffled by the order.

The Federal Drug Administration said Sunday it was ordering eight manufacturers to stop saying within 30 days that their mouthwashes ended bad breath, sore throats or some irritations of the common cold, or face possible removal of their products from the shelves.

A Merck Co. spokesman said Monday the Tyrollaris Mouthwash cited by the FDA "has been off the market for three years," and two other companies reported that they haven't marketed the mouthwashes in question for more than six months.

Lever Bros. said of Pepsodent Antiseptic Mouthwash: "We discontinued the product over half a year ago and haven't advertised it in 10 years—in excess of 10 years. We have almost no inventory out in the field."

"I want to raise my kids in the country. I want to be able to look out my back door without seeing a house. There's so little of that left anymore. That's kind of why I want to work for the National Park Service."

"I don't want to sit passively. I want to protect what I love and that is the out-of-doors."

Murder Count in Death of Gridder

MEMPHIS (AP)—Two youths were charged with first-degree murder today in the slaying of Maxie L. Caldwell, former Memphis and Arkansas football star.

Detective Chief Joe Gagliano identified them as Harold R. Jefferson, 20, and James L. Jackson, 15.

Gagliano said juvenile court will be asked to remand Jackson to criminal court for trial as an adult.

Caldwell, 22, was shot to death Saturday night outside a lounge where he had been guest of honor at a prewedding bachelor party. He was to be married this week to Miss Dianne Kjeldgaard of El Dorado, Ark.

Friends of the victim said there had been some words exchanged with two youths standing outside the lounge as Caldwell left the party. He was hit by a single bullet.

Caldwell was a former football standout at Overton High and later at Arkansas State University.

Gun Detector Doesn't Foil Hijacking

NEW YORK (AP) — A gun detection device was operating at Kennedy Airport Sunday when the armed man who later hijacked a Boeing 747 to Cuba boarded the jet.

A Pan American World Airways spokesman said Monday that crowding and confusion at the boarding gate before the San Juan flight may have contributed to the hijacker's not being detected.

However, The New York Times today quoted informed sources as saying the reason he escaped notice was that Pan Am agents said they did not have enough manpower or time to conduct the passenger screening, and that airline employees were not monitoring the metal-detector at the time.

It was the first time a jumbo jet was hijacked, and the first time the instrument developed by the Federal Aviation Administration was in operation during boarding.

A complaint filed in Brooklyn by U.S. Atty. Edward R. Neaher said the plane was hijacked by Rudolfo Rivera Rios, 27, an American born in Puerto Rico.

An arrest warrant charged him with air piracy, kidnapping, and interference with and intimidation of airline crewmen with threats of force.

The warrant said the suspect carried a bottle of nitroglycerin, a switchblade knife, and a .32-caliber pistol.

A full load of 362 passengers was on the plane that dropped off the hijacker in Havana, flew back to Miami, and then to Puerto Rico.

Personal Note
St. Louis Story—
a Great Decline

Brooks Shults, Fulton plantation owner who underwent two operations at Wadley Memorial Hospital at Texarkana, is recuperating at his daughter's home in Norfolk, Va., this column learned today.

Mrs. James Flippin, his daughter Nancy, attended her father at the Texarkana hospital, then flew back to Norfolk with him.

Our best wishes go with an old friend. Brooks was one of the first men I met on coming to Hope in 1929.

There is no more shocking development in the 1970 U.S. census than the St. Louis story. The Missouri metropolis reached its peak in 1950 with a population of 856,796, fell to 750,026 in 1960—and for 1970 dropped to 608,078.

More people than ever still work in St. Louis, of course, but in steadily greater numbers they are moving their homes to the suburbs. As tax "turnbacks" from state government are largely determined by the number of a city's live-at-home residents there is big financial trouble coming up for most major cities, which like St. Louis showed a decline for 1970.

By comparison the smaller cities with no special urban problems and no suburbs to speak of, maintained their position in 1970, some even showing increases as Hope, Nashville, and Prescott did. It speaks well for our way of life as we enter the 70s.

Makes Plea for Welfare Reform Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a crucial appeal for President Nixon's welfare reform plan, Labor Secretary James D. Hodgson vowed to the Senate Finance Committee today that the measure would "motivate people to work."

The panel poses a serious stumbling block to the House-passed legislation, with chances for approval thought to hinge on Republican members who have, so far, split with the White House.

Some GOP critics view the plan, such as one feature which would provide a minimum income of $1,600 plus $850 worth of food stamps to a family of four, as a massive giveaway encouraging persons to join the welfare rolls.

But Hodgson time and again stressed that the goal was to "help make people financially independent."

"The Family Assistance Plan," he insisted, "is not ... a guaranteed income plan or a negative income tax."

"It is, instead, a complementary array of work incentives, work requirements, training and employment opportunities, child care to enable mothers to work," as well as income allowances.

He said the administration backed several changes in the plan designed to bolster work incentives and make it more palatable to critics.

Among them is a provision for joint management of the family assistance and food stamp programs, revising the prices of stamps upward as income increases "thus removing employment disincentives."

Hodgson said that out of 7.7 million persons age 16 and over who would be covered by the plan in 1971, about 2.5 million would be required to register for job training and employment or face cutoff of their payments. Of that number, he said, about 1.2 million are already working full time.

Those exempted from having to register, he said, would include 1.7 million wives of family heads; 1 million mothers with children under six years old; 900,000 who are ill or incapacitated; 1.3 million fulltime students; and 300,000 persons needed in the home to care for someone who is ill.

Arab-Israeli Peace Talks Are Begun

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring scheduled his first talks with Arab and Israeli representatives in New York today on the U.S. peace proposal for the Middle East.

Libyan leader Muammar Kadhafi was in Baghdad trying to smooth out differences between Egypt, which accepted the plan, and Iraq, which denounced it. A strategy conference of Arab defense and foreign ministers was postponed, awaiting the outcome of Kadhafi's peacemaking.

In Tel Aviv, the right-wing Gahal party voted Monday night to quit Premier Golda Meir's coalition government in protest of Israel's acceptance of the plan. The walkout was not expected to affect Israeli policy since the other coalition parties still control 72 of the 120 seats in Israel's parliament.

Jarring, who returned to New York Sunday to resume mediation between the Arabs and Israelis, arranged separate meetings today with chief U.N. delegates—Abdullah El-Erian of Egypt, Muhammad El-Farra of Jordan and Yosef Tekoa of Israel. He also planned to meet with the U.N. ambassadors from the Big Four nations—the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union—who have been trying for months to agree on a peace formula for the Middle East.

The meetings with the Arab and Israeli diplomats were considered preliminaries. Talks to set up the 90-day cease-fire proposed by the United States are not expected to start until Israel follows up its announcement of acceptance of the U.S. plan with an official statement setting forth its reservations and conditions, as Egypt and Jordan have done.

Jarring met Monday afternoon with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who presented the American proposal to Jordan, Israel and Egypt on June 19.

Thant said the meeting was "very useful and constructive" and that "all aspects of the U.S. proposal, including replies received by the U.S. government," were discussed. Rogers said it was a "very useful meeting ... about the steps that may be taken in the future."

The U.S. plan calls for a cease-fire of at least three months during which Jarring would once more talk in turn to the Egyptians, Jordanians and Israelis, trying to bring them into agreement on a procedure for carrying out the Security Council resolution of Nov. 22, 1967. It called for Israeli withdrawal from the territory occupied in the 1967 war and for Arab recognition of Israel's right to exist.

While Kadhafi, the Libyan strongman, talked in Baghdad, President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt lashed back at Iraqi criticism of him for accepting the U.S. proposal. The semi-official Cairo newspaper Al-Ahram said Iraqi President Ahmed Hassan El-Bakr's government was "a bloody, isolated regime ... seeking a role for itself in the Arab world after the isolation it brought upon itself by the bloody liquidation operations it undertook since coming to power."

President Qualifies Remark on Manson Trial in California

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has backed away from an off-the-cuff comment that Charles Manson, the California hippie-cult leader, was guilty, directly or indirectly, of "eight murders without reason."

While Air Force One circled Washington for nearly a half hour Monday night on a flight from Denver, Nixon drafted a statement that declared, "The last thing I would do is prejudice the legal rights of any person, in any circumstances."

Hours earlier, Manson's defense attorneys had asked a Los Angeles judge to declare a mistrial, alleging prejudicial publicity. The court denied the initial motion "without prejudice," wanting to make certain what Nixon actually said.

The defense was free to renew the motion under that ruling, which it said it would do today. If such a motion were approved, a new start would be required in the trial of Manson and other defendants in the celebrated Sharon Tate murder case.

Manson Cites Nixon Remark for Mistrial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Defense attorneys in the Sharon Tate murder trial say they'll ask again for a mistrial today because President Nixon said defendant Charles M. Manson is "guilty, directly or indirectly, of eight murders without reason."

One of the lawyers, Paul Fitzgerald, said of Nixon's comments: "We know this is unprecedented in the history of jurisprudence. Seldom if ever has a president taken an interest in a state murder trial."

"I am shocked and bewildered," Fitzgerald said. "If the President of the United States is going to say this, then the ball game is over."

Nixon issued a statement later in Washington saying that he didn't intend to speculate about Manson's guilt or innocence.

"The defendants should be presumed to be innocent at this stage of their trial," he said.

Nixon's original remarks, made to newsmen at Denver, reached the courthouse at lunch recess Monday. When court resumed, all attorneys ap-

P.B. Bank Robber Sought

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Authorities continued to search today for a lone gunman who robbed a branch of the National Bank of Commerce here of $7,621.

Bank employees described the young white man as being about 30 years old and wearing green work clothes. He entered the Jefferson Square branch of the bank and held a gun on Miss Clarine White and three other employees.

Miss White said the man drew the gun, handed her a paper bag and a note that said fill the bag with money. He then fled out of the building and backed on foot into a wooded area behind the bank. A search was made of the area but no clue was found.

Bill Kennedy, president of the bank, said the gunman took only $50s and $20s, but the uneven amount had been given to him.

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan voters select candidates for the November general election today, with the top primary race matching the wife of a Nixon Cabinet member and a conservative state senator for the Republican nomination to the Senate.

The feature race on the Democratic side of the ballot was a four-man run for the party's gubernatorial nomination.

Mrs. George Romney, 61-year-old wife of the U.S. secretary of housing and urban development, faced state Sen. Robert Huber of Troy in the GOP Senate race.

MARRIED HOPE GIRL

Michigan State Senator Robert Huber, opposing Mrs. George Romney in today's battle for a United States Senate seat, is president of the Tolber Corp. of Hope and is married to the former Polly Tolleson of Hope.

The winner will meet Sen. Phillip A. Hart, running unopposed for the Democratic nomination, in November.

The Michigan primary was one of four on the election calendar today, with polling also scheduled in Missouri, Kansas and Idaho.

In Missouri, Sen. Stuart Symington, the largest vote-getter in the state's history, faced nominal opposition from four opponents in his bid for the Democratic nomination to a fourth term.

In the Republican race, Atty. Gen. John C. Danforth was favored over Doris Bass, a member of the St. Louis Board of Aldermen.

In Kansas, Atty. Gen. Kent Fizzell was given a slight edge in a five-man field seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination. The incumbent, Democrat Robert Docking, was running unopposed in the primary as he sought an unprecedented third term.

Idaho's Gov. Don W. Samuelson, a Republican in his first four-year term, had primary opposition from former state Sen. Dick Smith. The Democratic primary for governor had a three-man field.

In the Democratic race for governor in Michigan, the favorites were former state party chairmen Sander Levin and Zoltan Ferency.

P.O. Reform Bill Passes Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — A reform bill turning management of the nation's mails over to a corporation-style agency, and providing an 8 per cent pay raise to mailmen, was passed Monday by the Senate, 57 to 7.

Final congressional approval, sending the landmark measure to President Nixon, is likely Thursday in the House.

The larger chamber could have acted by Wednesday but the leadership agreed to give members more time to study it before the final vote, said the terms of the measure worked out in negotiations with the House.

Under the measure, an independent postal service would be run by an 11-man board of governors. The bill would end nearly all aspects of 181 years of congressional control of the mails.

Provisions for a congressional veto of mail rates were eliminated in the compromise version. The rates will be set by an independent five-man rates commission.

Drug Overdose Kills Actress

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actress Inger Stevens, who was found dying in her Hollywood home April 30, was the victim of an overdose of barbiturates, the Los Angeles county coroner's office has ruled.

The coroner's office said it was unable to determine through what it called a "psychological autopsy" based on Miss Stevens' medical history and habits whether the overdose was accidental or intentional.

Faubus Is Critical of Rockefeller

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP) — Former Gov. Orval Faubus Monday accused Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller of using his position on the Arkansas Industrial Development Commission to gain the power and support to be elected governor.

Faubus, who is seeking the Democratic gubernatorial nomination, had appointed Rockefeller to the post while the Democrat was in office.

"The biggest mistake I ever made was appointing Winthrop Rockefeller to a state commission," Faubus said.

Faubus spoke to about 150 persons at a gathering in Monticello.

4 Killed, 1 Missing in 'Celia'

By JIM BARLOW

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Hurricane Celia, smashed this city and nearby towns with a devastation a senator said hasn't been equalled in an urban area since World War II, battered its way into Mexico today, still virile and destructive.

Celia's winds were clocked at 89 miles an hour at Del Rio today — well over hurricane velocity of 75 m.p.h. But the Weather Bureau refused to maintain the label of hurricane because the wind was not sustained.

Damage at Del Rio and Eagle Pass was extensive with severe winds continuing into the morning.

At least 22 persons died as Celia swept from Cuba into Mexico. No one could count the injured here, and the shocked Corpus Christi survivors made no immediate effort to assess the huge monetary losses.

Some towns were virtually wiped out in the 145-m.p.h. winds here, buildings were destroyed, and show windows popped slivers of glass into the streets like shrapnel.

Four were known dead and a fifth presumed drowned here. Celia caused one death in Cuba while she still was only a storm. On Florida's coast, 12 persons drowned because of undertows and rough waters spawned by the hurricane.

With weapons, briefcases and tools, rescue, repair and relief experts headed for Corpus Christi and its environs—whenever they could get in.

State patrolmen blocked all roads and even relatives of residents were barred. Another 200 National Guardsmen poured into the region at dawn.

There was an almost complete blackout of communications and power in Corpus Christi and surrounding areas. There were unconfirmed reports of up to 200 persons injured in Aransas Pass and another 200 hurt in Corpus Christi.

The storm struck Corpus Christi at the height of the vacation season. Thousands of windows were blown out, and shattered glass littered the street. Palm trees were smashed, light standards toppled, power lines felled and autos were overturned. Boats were blown out of the marina.

"It's a shambles," said Mayor Jack Blackburn.

The communities across the bay were hurt worse.

"Ninety per cent of the buildings are gone," said City Manager Gay Walker at Aransas Pass, a town of 7,000.

From Ingleside, Municipal Judge Troy Kizer said: "This place is practically wiped out."

Lightning Kills 10 Fliers

SEARCHLIGHT, Nev. (AP) — Ten Navy men died when, witnesses said, a bolt of lightning apparently shattered their antisubmarine patrol plane and sent it raining in fiery pieces onto a rocky ridge near here.

The P3B patrol plane stationed at Barber's Point, Hawaii, was on a training flight Monday with its crew of three officers and seven enlisted men.

The plane was about 50 miles south of Las Vegas on a flight from Nellis Air Force Base near Las Vegas to the North Island Naval Air Station in San Diego when it entered an area of thunderstorm activity.

Senator Wears Agnew Watch

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William B. Saxbe, R-Ohio, who has opposed the Nixon administration on a number of issues, showed up in the Senate Monday wearing a Spiro T. Agnew watch.

Saxbe said the timepiece was given to him by a constituent, adding: "I don't have any feeling of antagonism toward the vice president. It's just a gimmick."
